LATE NEWS.

Washington, Nov. 10 .- The following is an extract from General Halleck's letter to Secretary STANTON 4

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ABMY, Washington, Oct. 28, 1862. To the Hon. E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: SIR: In reply to the general interrogations contained in your letter of yesterday, I have the honor to report.

First-That requisitions for supplies for the army under General McClellan are made by his staff officers on the chiefs of bureaus here-that is, the Quartermas-The Union resugees now in this city, will ter applies by his Chief Quartermaster held at Representatives Hall, in the on the Quartermaster-General for commissary supplies, by his Chief Commis-sary-General. &c. No such requisitions have, to my knowledge, been made upon the Secretary of War.

Second-On several occasions General McClellan has telegraphed me that his army was deficient in certain supplies. All these telegrams were immediately referred to the heads of bureaus, with ordew Johnson, Hon. JORDAN STOKES, ders to report. There has not been, so ntayor Smith, and other distinguished far as I could ascertain, any neglect or delay in any department or bureau, in issuing all the supplies asked for by Engyery Union man and every Union General McClellan or by the officers of his staff. Delays have occurred in forwarding supplies by railroad, on account of the crowded condition of the railroad depots, or a want of a sufficient number

Third-Soon after the battle of Antietam, General McClellan was ordered to give me information of his intended movements, in order that if he moved A gentleman from Gallatin informs us between the enemy and Washington the at news was brought there by a cou- reinforcements could be sent from this or on Wednesday, of an engagement place. On the 1st of October, finding that he proposed to operate from Haper's Ferry, I urged him to cross the river at once and give battle to the enemy, pointcy, and some infantry, with Mongan's ing out to him the disadvantages, of ces, in which the guerrillas were com- delaying till the autumn rains had tely routed, with the loss of a num- swollen the Potomac and impaired the roads. WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- Nothing has yet been received, either at the Navy Department or from passengers from Norfolk to-day, confirming the reported rson Troop, of Gen. Buell's body- capture of 3,000 rebels at Plymouth,

> It is ascertained that the assignment of General Burnside to the command of the army of the Potomac without limitation, hence the reports that any other General will take the position recently held by McClellan are not well founded. This is at least the present state of affairs.

> All the statements alleging that there is a disaffection in the army in consequence of a charge in the command of the army of the Potomac are pronounced, by those who have the best means of knowing, to be without foundation.

There is nothing in the latest foreign intelligence to lead to an apprehension of trouble between the United States and foreign powers in American affairs, unless it be from the speculators in fitting out privateers to prey upon American commerce.

Great Panic among the Mississippi Planters.

An officer writing from Corinth, to a friend in the North, says :

To give you an idea of the terror which has seized upon the heart of "our Southern brethren," I copy an extract of a letter written to Hon. John Perkins, Jr., by a rebel Captain, T. F. Harrison, from his camp near Holly Springs on the 7th of August last, asking him to use his influence with the rebel authorities at Richmond to allow his company of cavalry to return to their own county, to look after their insubordinate slaves. He says:

"There has been a million dollars worth of property destroyed in Madison, that could have been protected with our cavalry company. The negroes are demoralized to such an extent on the river (Mississippi) that they are ready and willing to participate in anything that the Yankees may wish when they return, which they are sure to do. Now, which should be the proper force to meet this emergency? Those interested in slaves along the river, or those from the back parishes, owning but few slaves or none? suppose you have heard of about one hundred Yankees going through the upper portion of our parish and taking to Vicksburgh some four or five hundred slaves to work on their canal. Those negroes will return with promises of freedom and with their minds poisoned, and the injury which will be sustained by our people, unless some protection is afforded them, will be incalculable. We are in the most hepless condition of any parish in the State."

Another letter, dated Aug. 13, recommending the matter of the request to further consideration, says: "Our negroes-at least, such as were taken by the Yankees-have become greatly demoralized from their association with the Yankees, while at work on their canal. This demoralization will, of course, spread to the neighboring plantations, and the result must be most disastrous without a timely check on them. All accounts we get from the parish agree in this account of the utter demoralization of the negroes that were employed by the Yankees. Allan Bouri now. When the Yankees visit that seedo again, they will of course be much

These letters refer, as will be seen, to Vicksburg and that portion of Louisiana lying near it. They were among some of the captured rebel documents at regard each other with doubt, but that containing subject matter such as they.

The Mississippi aristocracy, who, in violence and insolence equal their South Carolina brothren, are suffering the rightcons retribution of their treason. It is quirer, with the Charleston blockade, un- folly for them-and they feel it-to think of controlling their slaves hereafter, still continues to some extent. A fire who are only following the example of broke out last night in Charleston, and their masters in rebelling, and indeed must have proved very destructive, as it have a far better cause for rebelling. Befirm that employs negroes in their busi- bor. The smoke can still be seen this these planters will rejoice to be relieved of their chattels on any terms.
